Does Public Interest in LA Reentry Arise from a Жassemly of “Stigma”? The strategy of “reentry” as a form of rehabilitation, I argue, is problematic for a number of reasons. First, as public interest in LA reentry grows, so does the need for a more nuanced understanding of the concepts of “reentry” and “stigma.” Second, the public interest in LA reentry is often driven by a desire to see change, but the nature and extent of that change are often not clearly defined. Finally, the public interest in LA reentry is often based on a misunderstanding of the complexities involved in the process of rehabilitation.
